

Sulo Burbank notches first PASS Modified win at Riverside Speedway

Thirteen year old Pass Modified driver, Sulo Burbank finished off July with a bang last Saturday night. The second year driver from Gorham bested the field, wheeling his #21 Capt'n Eli's Soda / VeMMA PASS Mod into victory lane at Riverside Speedway in Groveton NH during the Summerfest Event. Soaked with sweat after the event, Sulo hopped up on the podium dwarfed by the second and third place drivers, and sporting a grin only a first time winner can muster and thanked his Dad, his Crew Chief Bubba Pelton, Spanky Anderson at Traxside, and his two biggest sponsors Capt'n Eli's Soda and VeMMA.

Its been an up and down sophomore season for Sulo. After flirting with top five finishes at Speedway 95 and Unity Raceway early in the season Sulo finally climbed the podium at Lee USA Speedway in June, collecting a Pass Mod third behind PASS Mod Ace Andy Shaw and North Carolina Pro Jay Fogleman. Two weeks later a promising return to Lee USA ended early with a mechanical problem and a hard smack to the front stretch wall. But that's racing. Good days and bad days are all part of the deal. While the Riverside win was the first full sized Stock Car win for the young driver from Gorham ME, he's no stranger to Victory Lane. Racing karts since five, Sulo has collected hundreds of trophies including over forty victories throughout New England. With the 2009 season only half over and check marks next to a couple of Sulo and the team's biggest goals, the future looks good. For now it's back to prepping the PASS Mod for the Unity race August second and working at collecting another one.
